Mustang Depot will process all orders received the day after the order is received. We do not guarantee stock. If the item is currently available, the product will ship the day following the order date, with respect to the type of delivery service requested by the customer. We are not liable for shipping charges, for items that are not currently in stock. We will ship the item the manner in which it was ordered (i.e. Next Day, 2nd Day) whenever the product is or becomes available... There are no refunds given for shipping charges! We will do our best to fill orders that we don't have currently in stock. We have a network of affiliates, which allows us the ability to pursue the product from other sources. However, it is not too uncommon for nationwide backorders to be in effect due to manufacturer hold-ups on certain items. The term used herein as "Free Shipping" only applies to "Ship To" addresses within the continental USA only. When a product is deemed "Free Shipping," other shipping options including 3 Day, 2nd or Next Day Air, will have to be paid separately.
