Fuel System

Fuel Cells

Safety issue #1 on the street or track and this "almost" drop in replacement fuel cell addresses that issue head on! In the racing world, the brand name Fuel Safe is widely known for over the last 20 years. Now they've designed a fuel cell that will install in your early Mustang and help protect you in the event of a rear end collision. The high aircraft standard cells this company produces, include TIG welded aluminum housings and feature a puncture resistant coated rubber bladder, and a stout fuel filler plate with an integral anti-backsplash valve. Complete with installation instructions and tech support if needed. We have opted to not offer the Economy Fuel Cell on street applications due to a more porous bladder that emits a fuel smell.
